

MONDAY, JUNE 12, 1882.

KAMEHAMEHA DAY.

The principal national holidays in these islands in former years, were the 17th of March, observed as the birthday (as near as could be guessed) of KAMEHAMEHA III., and the 31st of July, in commemoration of the restoration by Admiral THOMAS in 1843, of the national independence, which had been hastily taken away by Lord GEORGE PAULLET. The first was naturally dropped after the death of KAUREAOULI, and the latter also, after the demise of Admiral THOMAS. It was KAMEHAMEHA V. who, in the very year of his death, 1872, selected the Eleventh of June as a day to be observed in commemoration of the FIRST KAMEHAMEHA, and it has ever since been regarded as the Hawaiian national holiday.

KAMEHAMEHA has, by foreigners, been styled "the great," and he is entitled to the name, both from his personal character and by his acts. It may be objected that he was great only on a small scale; but it has been well said that there are in this world, great rulers of small nations, as well as small rulers of great ones. The first KAMEHAMEHA, in view of the circumstances of his people and country, was wise and politic to a degree far in advance of his times, and gave unmistakable proof of a natural genius for governing and a genuine force of character that must compel the admiration of the reader of his history. By the Hawaiians he was named the Ne-i Aupuni—the constructor or founder of government; and he certainly deserved the appellation in having reduced order out of the chaos of misrule of opposing chiefs that existed before his time, from Hawaii to Kauai. He died a pagan, but not before expressing a wish for teachers from abroad.

THE P.C.A. evidently loses its arithmetical balance every time it speaks of the Portuguese immigrants by the Monarch. It began an item the other day by stating that there were 860 of these people, but before it had proceeded a dozen lines it restated the number at 859. On Saturday it gravely informed its readers that during the previous twenty-four hours, these wonderfully prolific people had increased by sixteen. This is at the rate of 380 per month, and no less than 4,560 per annum! There's fecundity for you. A wonderful people, truly.

There was a fair attendance at Kapiolani Park on Saturday afternoon, to witness the first day's racing. The following were the results: Kapiolani Plate, mile dash, won by Stanford Colt, time 1.49½. King's Plate, mile heat, won by General Garfield, time 1.50½; distanced Hancock on the first heat. Queen Emma Plate, won by Stanford Colt, time 1.20. Mark Twain and Romping Girl did not run, the Girl behaving badly and falling with her rider twice. Receipts—Admittance to Park, $186.25; admittance to Grand Stand, $96.50.

The Right Reverend Bishop Maigret, Senior Roman Catholic Bishop of Honolulu, died yesterday afternoon, at his residence near the Roman Catholic Church. The Bishop was nearly 78 years old, and has been in a low state of health for several months past, so that his decease was not an unexpected event.

The German bark Stella arrived yesterday 170 days from New York. She brings an assorted cargo to Messrs. Castle & Cooke.

LEGISLATIVE.

Saturday June 10. Petitions, read and referred:

Makawao, as usual, led the van, asking this time that the further immigration of Chinese be prohibited, for, say the petitioners, the land is already full of them.

From Kanaeapali, that all parents with five children be exempt from taxation.

Mr. Widemann, from Committee on Public Improvements, reported recommending passage of the bill defining the fire limits of Honolulu. Ordered to be printed.

Mr. Kaunamano, offered a resolution appropriating $500 for a court house at Waipio, Hawaii, and repairs of court house at Honokaa.

Mr. Aiwohi, to appropriate $2000 in aid of the Female Seminary at Kohala.

Mr. Kaunamano, instructing the Committee on Finance to report on government expenditures for the past two years, on Tuesday the 13th. Adopted.

Mr. Richardson, that $3000 be appropriated for the encouragement of agriculture.

Mr. Kaunamano, that the Sergeant-at-Arms procure carriages for the members to visit Kapiolani Park on Monday. After some discussion, the resolution was adopted. Adjourned to Tuesday.

THE British steamer Bothwell Castle arrived yesterday, 9 days from Portland. She brings 450 tons of Chinese freight. She will leave about Wednesday for Shanghai.

THE R.M.S.S. Australia arrived yesterday, 6 days 16 hours from San Francisco.

THE various Sunday Schools affiliated with Kaumakapili Church held their regular quarterly reunion yesterday, in the new school hall at the base of the church. There was a large gathering of children of both sexes and all ages. Parents, friends, and strangers were also present in unusually large numbers. The spacious hall was crammed brimfull. In fact, it was a difficult matter to find standing room even outside of the doors. The Reformatory School Band played several sacred pieces in a manner that excited admiration. The Band was conducted on this occasion by one of its own number—a little fellow named David Nape, about thirteen years old. He is quite a musical prodigy, and will, no doubt, make a mark if his future continues as progressive as the past.

The clipper schooner Claus Spreckels, Cousins, sailed on the 10th inst. for San Francisco, carrying 6248 bags of sugar, weighing 792,818 lbs., value $52,591 27-100, and 359 hides, 7 barrels tallow, valued at $1875, also the following passengers: C. Coakes and family, J. Boardman, S. E. Ford, and J. D. Onastovsky.

A PAINFUL accident occurred yesterday afternoon, by which the little son of Mr. C. B. Wilson was injured. He was playing with what he supposed was a package of chewing gum, given him by a schoolmate, but which it appears was giant powder. It exploded in his hand, and the result was that the surgeon who was called in had to amputate two joints of the fore-finger of the left hand and one each of the thumb and second finger. From whence came this dangerous and unlawful explosive in the hands of children?

THE Roman Catholic public procession in honor of the Church Festival of Corpus Christi, took place yesterday afternoon.

The steamship Australia yesterday morning, brought San Francisco dates to the 4th instant, ten days later. The news is unimportant.

Gen. Garibaldi, the Italian patriot, died at Caprera, June 2nd, of bronchitis.

The British Commons was excited over the Repression of Crimes Bill, an dan obstinate fight was expected.

The conference of European Powers on the Egyptian question was to take place on June 6th.

There was a great strike among the iron workers of Pennsylvania and Ohio, which had produced a decided scare in the London market for American railroad securities.
